

Accessories For Your Tipi

You can imagine that the durability of a tipi designed to be packed all over the Great Plains makes for a extremely long-lasting family camping tent, cottage, playhouse, or any other use.

The accessories listed below enhance aesthetics and functionality for your tipi.

Door Cover - for added privacy and weather proofing. (Important in Montana).

Cover Rope - used to secure the tripod and poles prior to installing the cover.

Liner Rope - used to attach the liner to the inside of the tipi.

Lacings Pins - made from wooden willow sticks and used to lace the cover together around the poles.

Stakes - to secure the tipi to the ground (10" metal nail-head).

Floor Cover - important for long term setups. Keeps you warmer and drier. Easy to clean. Made of very durable 20 oz. vinyl.

Poles - made from lodge pole pine that is peeled and unfinished. They have a 2-3" butt diameter and create the frame for the tipi.
